Education Background

2026-Present Ph.D. Student in Department of Sociology, University of Macau, Macau
2024-2026 M.S in Criminology, Social Sciences, University of Macau, Macau | GPA: 3.90/4.0
2020-2024 B.S. in Law, Guangdong University of Foreign Studies, Guangzhou | GPA: 3.72/4.0

Research Interests

Substantive: Social stratification, Social mobility, Health, Substance abuse
Methods: Quantitative, Systematic review, Meta analysis, Mixed methods

Beyond discussing on whether the people eventually successfully changed their social status through the mobility, my research examines the distance and the gap between the "promise" of the structure and the reality. The target groups of my research include non-resident workers, rural residents who bypass local hospitals and go directly to top-tier facilities for medical care and young people born in county towns who now live in the modern urban system.

Skills

English proficiency: IELTS 6.5 (Listening 6, Reading 6, Writing 7, Speaking 7)
Statistics software: R programing, Review Manager (RevMan), SPSS
Musical and instrument: Choir (Alto), Piano (level-8)

Work Experience

- 2025-Present Department of Sociology, University of Macau Teaching Assistant
  Responsible for assisting professors with the class setting up, answering questions from the class, grading homework and giving feedback in front of the class.
- 2023 Guangdong ETR "广东广信君达" Law firm Lawyer Assistant (Internship)
  Responsible for reviewing and revising multiple contracts covering freight transportation, food production, and garment manufacturing, etc. I assisted in identifying key case issues, collating detailed calculations for arbitration cases, and providing legal research support.
- 2022-2023 GDUFS & Guangzhou Lawyers Association Course Assistant
  The work involved assisting the professor with lesson designing for the "Foreign Legal Professional Training Course Series, Legal English Debate Workshop", officially hosted by the Guangzhou Lawyers Association and co-organized by the Faculty of International Business English of Guangdong University of Foreign Studies. For the duration of the course, we facilitated group discussions for registered lawyer participants, prepared supplementary course materials, and established academic exchange channels with legal practitioners.

Extracurricular Activities

- 2026-Present English Debate Team, University of Macau Member
  I successfully passed the selection and officially became a member of the UM EDT.
- 2024-Present Free-cycle Beach Cleanup Spontaneous Organization Member
  I participated in a spontaneous beach cleanup activity with local people from the Macau free-cycle lifestyle volunteers group (澳门免废生活). More than ten activities have been held since November 2024. Our main area for the beach cleanup activities is the Cheoc Van Beach.
- 2022-2023 English Debate Team, GDUFS Captain
  I was responsible for team management, team recruiting publicity, recruiting interviews, and preparing lectures and training sessions about British Parliamentary Debate for new team members. We organized FLTRP Cup and CUDC Campus Trial debate tournaments and hosted online meetings with more than 100 participants in 2023-2024.
- 2021-2023 Student Affairs Office, School of Law, GDUFS Assistant
  I served as a university counselor's assistant in the Law School's Office of Academic Affairs for two consecutive academic years. Work includes assisting the counselor in organizing documents, preparing slides for meetings, designing posters for guest lectures and performing other student administrative tasks.
- 2020-2022 Academic Mock Trial, School of Law, GDUFS Member & Organizer
  I served as the School of Law's Mock Trial scriptwriter and core cast for two academic years. The work involves researching representative cases from the civil law system and the common law system for presentation at the annual mock trial, analyzing core legal disputes, drafting scripts, delivering presentations, and staging performances based on the legal cases.

Research Experience

- 2026 Master's thesis: Field of Correction and Criminology
  This study titled "The Effectiveness of Peer Education Interventions for Preventing Drug Abuse Among Adolescents and Young Adults". This study systematically reviews the empirical studies on domestic and international peer education-related drug prevention programs. The research results indicated that the benefits brought by peer education intervention measures might not be effectively translated into significant behavioral changes, or behavioral changes might require longer intervention periods and higher intervention intensity to manifest (Used methods: Systematic review study and meta-analysis).
- 2025 Report "Parenting Styles and Children's Attachment Tendencies"
  This study explores the different influences of parenting styles on children's attachment tendencies of avoidant attachment and anxious attachment. This study employed an online cross-sectional survey design and finally a total of 185 questionnaires were collected. It conducted Spearman analysis and multiple regression analysis to test our hypotheses.
- 2024 Report "Celebrities and Substance Abuse: risk factors for substance abuse"
  This study is to reveal the mechanisms that cause celebrity substance abuse and to inspire people not to "romanticize" substance abuse and not treat it as a social or pop culture experience. This report uses content analysis as the research method. The main outcome indicators of this study are descriptive values including the type of substance use disorder, the reason for the first drug use or the motivation for the continued drug use, the duration, the detoxification and the outcome, etc.
- 2024 Bachelor's thesis: Field of Labor Law
  This study titled "A Study on the Protection of Labor Rights and Interests of Deaf-Mute Online Ride-Hailing Drivers in China". This study focuses on the labor rights protection of special disabled groups within the online worker community. Starting from scenarios of barrier-free construction in practical life, it argues that current barrier-free platforms are insufficiently developed. The study compares and references the practical experiences of several foreign countries (such as the United States, Ireland, Australia, Japan, etc.) in supporting employment and accessibility construction.
- 2022-2023 "中联重科杯" 3rd National Law Student Writing Contest
  My team promoted a paper entitled "Legal Characterization, Legal Risks and Protection Paths of NFT Digital Collections Transactions", which discusses the legal determination of copyright infringement under the Chinese NFT market. The paper won the third prize at the law school's academic paper competition in 2023.
- 2021-2024"大创 "College Students' Innovative Entrepreneurial Training Plan Program
  Team project "Lawin Nurturing Talent" was awarded as a university-level project with funding, which was a cooperation outcome with the Guangzhou Lawyers Association. In this project, team members are participating in the training of lawyers as course assistants for the Faculty of International Business English. Based on the academic pattern and feedback from the lawyers, we wrote a recommendation report that exceeds 15,000 words, which was approved by the Guangzhou Lawyers Association. The project was completed in May 2024.
